PERSONAL

Although I enjoyed the blessings of growing up in a Christian home and attending church religiously, it was not until my sophomore year in college that God convicted me of my helplessness in sin, and that Jesus Christ was my only hope for salvation. After getting involved in a strong local church, the Holy Spirit convinced me of the need for committed ministers of the Word of God, and confirmed my desire and gifts to pursue that calling. My professional background, pastoral education, and ministry experience have well prepared me to labor in the Gospel to see His Word and Spirit convert sinners, sanctify saints, and prepare souls for heaven.
